College of Engineering

Non-Degree Graduate Study Application

Students who are interested in taking graduate-level courses in the College of Engineering as a non-degree student need to complete this form, the Statistical Record for New and Returning Students form, and submit official university transcripts. The completed forms should be submitted to the College of Engineering's Office of Admissions and Graduate Student Services who will then assist students in registering for courses. Nine semester hours of approved graduate-level engineering courses (grade of B or better) may be counted towards a graduate engineering degree.
