Your document will be sent via UPS Express Mail. When the document is sent, you will be notified via email.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT FEE: The International Student Fee of U.S. $125.00, implemented in Fall 2011, is assessed each semester an international student registers at Temple University. The fee not only permits ISSS to provide comprehensive immigration-related services to our students, but also supports a broad range of extracurricular programming, including such activities as airport pick-up, a two-week series of orientation events and regularly scheduled events throughout each semester.

DEPENDENTS' SUPPORT REQUIREMENTS: In addition to the expenses listed in this application form, you must provide additional financial documentation if you plan to bring your spouse and/or child(ren). You must have an additional $4,000 for your spouse and $2,500 for each child, as well as health insurance coverage for them.

Individuals in F-2 non-immigrant status, i.e., an F-1 student's dependent, are NOT permitted to study full-time unless they apply for and receive a change of non-immigrant status. If you are a spouse in F-2 status and wish to pursue a full-time degree program, you will be required to apply for a change of status. Information on how to obtain a change of status can be found at temple.edu/iss/future-students/status.html.

HEALTH INSURANCE: Temple University requires all students in either F-1 or J-1 status to carry health insurance that meets the minimum standards determined by the U.S. Department of State:

- Medical benefits of at least $50,000 per accident or illness
- Maximum deductible of $500 per accident or illness
- Payment of at least 75 percent of covered expenses
- Medical evacuation benefits of at least $10,000
- Repatriation benefits of at least $7,500

INITIAL EXPENSES: Bring with you at least $2,000 in the form of traveler's checks for initial expenses, even if you have a graduate/teaching/research assistantship. You may pay tuition by a check made payable to Temple University, credit card or traveler's checks, unless tuition is being provided by Temple University or another organization. For any questions regarding tuition payment, please contact Student Financial Services Office at sfs@temple.edu or (215) 204-2244. Be aware that it takes a minimum of two weeks for an international check to be processed by U.S. banks.

HOUSING INFORMATION: You should apply for on-campus housing as soon as possible, as spaces fill up very quickly each semester. Completing an application for housing does not guarantee that you will be given on-campus housing. More information about Temple University housing can be found at www.temple.edu/housing or by phone at (215) 204-7184. If you have dependents who will join you, we strongly suggest that you arrive on campus alone so that you may find adequate housing, and have them join you after.

FINANCIAL AID: Temple University does not provide loans to students, and there is very little financial aid available to international students. You should not expect to find funds after arriving in the U.S. Students in F-1 status cannot apply for any type of off-campus work permission until they have been in valid non-immigrant status for one academic year.

SPONSOR AFFIDAVIT OF SUPPORT: Sponsors may be parents, family members or other persons who will provide financial support. It is not necessary that a financial sponsor reside in the U.S. If there is to be more than one sponsor, please make a copy of this document for each sponsor to complete. An individual financial sponsor may provide complete or partial support for you, but your total financial support must equal or exceed the total estimated costs.

CERTIFICATE OF ELIGIBILITY: DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE I-20 AND DS-2019

I-20 is the certificate of eligibility for F-1 status that indicates the school declares you've been accepted for a full course of study and you appear to be a bona fide student. F-1 is designated for students in academic and language study programs.

DS-2019 serves a similar purpose for J-1 status applicants who receive funding from sources other than personal finances, like government funding, scholarships or assistantships. J-1 is designated for exchange students, teachers, scholars, researchers, etc., who come to the U.S. under an educational exchange program. J-1 students must be financed, at least partially, by the U.S. government or home government. The J-1 visa carries with it a two-year home residency requirement, as well as mandatory health insurance standards set forth by the Department of State for all dependents in J-2 status.

Please note that B-2 and F-2 visa holders cannot engage in full-time study, nor are they eligible for any type of employment authorization, whereas J-2 visa holders are eligible for both.

Transfer Recommendation Form

(Only for F-1 or J-1 students already studying in the U.S.)

If you are studying in a U.S. educational institution, you must submit this transfer recommendation form to your current international student advisor. To transfer from one school to another, you must first notify the school you currently attend that you intend to transfer to Temple University. This form should only be completed once you have been accepted to Temple University.

Upon your request your current school will update your record in SEVIS as a "transfer out" and indicate that you intend to transfer to Temple University. Your international student advisor will also indicate the release date of your SEVIS record, which will be the current semester or session completion date, or the date of expected transfer if earlier than the established academic cycle.

Your current school will retain control of your record in SEVIS until you complete the current term or reach the release date. At your request the international office may cancel the transfer request at any time prior to the release date.

Once the release date is reached, Temple University will be granted full access to your record in SEVIS and will become responsible for it. Your current school will convey to Temple University authority and responsibility for your record and will no longer have full SEVIS access. As such, a transfer request may not be cancelled by the current school after the release date has been reached. After the release date, Temple University must complete the transfer of your record in SEVIS and may issue an I-20 or DS-2019.
